

INTRODUCTION

The International Foods (FCS428) provides lecture and laboratory experiences for food practices, preparation and service of dishes typical of countries around the world (for more information, see FCS Web site at: <http://www.jsu.edu/edprof/fcs/hosp.html>). The course focuses upon the various flavors and spices that are found in each region of the globe, and how cultural considerations influence food choices will also be studied. Most print sources (such as books, periodicals) related to International Foods are majorly located on 10th floor in Houston Cole Library. Electronic sources (such as databases) can be accessed via computer stations on each floor.

PRINT SOURCES

Books are important sources of basic information on a topic, providing necessary definitions, background information, and statistics. Books provide a foundation for research which can be supplemented by more current information from periodical articles. Books may also contain useful bibliographies which may lead to additional sources of research. When looking for books, consult the Library of Congress Subject Headings to select the proper term(s) to use as subjects under "Find Books (Library Catalog)" (<http://library.jsu.edu/>). The following table shows the call number ranges and the subject headings of "Restaurant and Foodservice Management" in the Library of Congress System:

G154.9-180	Hospitality	HF5387-5390	Business Etiquette
