

Traditional Womanly Romance Pathfinder

Notes: The classic type of romance novel is the "womanly romance," contemporary in setting and with home and marriage as the goals for a happy life. The formula for these stories might be stated as "Girl meets boy with fortune, girl loses boy with fortune, girl gets boy (and fortune)." Romance writers are so prolific in their output that some entries below are for author numbers only.

Baldwin, Faith. EVENING STAR. New York: Holt, Rinehart, and Winston, 1966.

PS 3505 .U97E9

Baldwin, Faith. ONE MORE TIME. New York: Holt, Rinehart, and Winston, 1972.

PS 3505 .U97O54 1972

Cadell, Elizabeth. GAME IN DIAMONDS. New York: Morrow, 1976.

PR 6005 .A224G36 1976

Cadell, Elizabeth. A LION IN THE WAY. New York: Morrow, 1982.

PR 6005 .A225L5

Caldwell, Taylor. Library owns many titles.

SEE PS 3505 .A364

Dwyer-Joyce, Alice. CRY THE SOFT RAIN. London: R. Hale, 1972.

PZ 4 .D993Cr2

Eden, Dorothy. Library owns many titles.

SEE PR 9639.3 .E38

Norris, Kathleen. YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING. Garden City, NY: Doubleday, Doran, 1937.

PS 3527 .O5Y6 1937

Pilcher, Rosamunde. THE SHELL SEEKERS. New York: St. Martin's, 1987.

PR 6066 .I38S5 1987

Pilcher, Rosamunde. UNDER GEMINI. New York: St. Martin's, 1976.

PR 6066 .I38U53 1976

Stevenson, D.E. Library owns many titles.

SEE PR 6037 .T458

Van Slyke, Helen. Library owns many titles.

SEE PS 3572 .A54

Revised 04/01: HDN