

Friends of the Library
Presents

Joseph Scott Morgan

Author of

"Blood Beneath My Feet: Journey of a Southern Death Investigator"

September 19, 2014, 7:00 p.m.

Houston Cole Library, Jacksonville State University

"My name is Joseph Morgan and I began my journey as the youngest medicolegal death investigator in the United States in 1986. Though my career began along the eclectic canals and boulevards of metropolitan New Orleans and ended in the crime ridden and self-important streets of the 'New South' of Atlanta, my journey with death began long before then, when I was named after a murdered uncle and survived my father's attempt to kill my family. Blood Beneath My Feet is not CSI fluff or singularly focused crime stories as much as it is about the price paid for staring death in the eyes over a lifetime." --- Joseph Scott Morgan

- 2013 Georgia Author of the Year
- Frequent Forensic Analyst for HLN and CNN, Offering Commentary on High-Profile Cases including Jodi Arias/Travis Alexander, George Zimmerman/Trayvon Martin, Phillip Seymour Hoffman
- Distinguished Scholar of Applied Forensics at JSU

Please join us
Admission is free
&
Refreshments will be served

Books will be available
for purchase/signing

